

2022 Annual Meeting

Southern Anthropological Society

“Public Interest and Professional Anthropology in the South”

When/ Where

April 7th - 9th, 2022

At Sheraton Hotel, Raleigh, NC

Proposals

Send Roundtable, Panel, or Individual Poster and Paper proposals to Matt Samson (masamson@davidson.edu) by February 1, 2022. Accepted Panels will be notified by February 15, 2022.

What does an anthropology of/in the South that is applied, public, or engaged look like? How are we applying anthropology, serving a public(s), and/or engaging contemporary politics particularly in this time of global pandemic and anti-racist protest? The 2022 meeting of the SAS seeks presentations, posters, and roundtables illustrating the variety of ways in which anthropology is addressing the needs of the public (students, colleagues, government leaders, business clients, NGO funders, civic and community groups, etc.). Proposals on other topics are welcome!

Student Paper Competition

Separate competition for undergraduate and graduate students for previously unsubmitted work from 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 academic year. There will be a $200 prize. Send final submissions by February 25, 2022, to Abby Wightman (awightman@marybaldwin.edu).

Registration

SAS Membership Fee is $75 for professionals and $35 for students, contingent faculty, and retirees

Meeting Registration Fee is $75 for professionals and $35 for students, contingent faculty, and retirees

Payment can be made via Paypal at <http://southernanthro.org/annual-meeting/>.